Cover Letter Starter Pack

Template Pack | DOCX

Three concise, editable cover letter formats for scholars submitting to journals with different expectations.

How to use this sample: Edit the highlighted placeholders, adapt the tone to your journal, and verify every factual statement before submission.

Format 1: Standard original research submission

Dear Editor,

Please consider our manuscript, titled “[Insert Manuscript Title],” for publication in [Journal Name]. This study addresses [brief topic] and presents [one-sentence contribution or novelty]. We believe the manuscript is well aligned with the journal’s scope because [reason tied to audience, methods, or topic].

This manuscript is original, has not been published previously, and is not under consideration elsewhere. All authors have approved the submitted version and agree to its submission to the journal. Any relevant ethical approvals, consent statements, and conflict of interest disclosures are included in the manuscript.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Format 2: Review article submission

Dear Editor,

We are pleased to submit our review manuscript, titled “[Insert Review Title],” for consideration in [Journal Name]. This review synthesises current evidence on [topic] and highlights [gap/trend/application], which we believe will interest the journal’s readership.

The manuscript has been prepared to provide a balanced and clearly structured overview of the field. We have aimed to offer critical analysis rather than a descriptive summary alone.

Thank you for considering our work.

Sincerely,

[Corresponding Author Name]

Format 3: Revised or transferred submission

Dear Editor,

Please find attached our revised manuscript, “[Insert Manuscript Title].” We thank the editor and reviewers for their constructive feedback, which has helped us improve the manuscript substantially.

We have addressed all comments point by point in the response letter and revised the manuscript accordingly. Major changes include [brief list of 2–3 key improvements].

We appreciate the opportunity to resubmit our work for further consideration.

Sincerely,

[Corresponding Author Name]

Quick reminders

- Keep the letter concise and journal-specific.
- State novelty clearly, but avoid exaggerated claims.
- Check authorship, ethics, and exclusivity statements before sending.

THANK YOU
